How Would You Like Your Children to be Treated in School?

What Kind of Schools Do you Want for YOUR Grandchildren?

From John W. Whitehead
Children are the living message we send to a time we will not see.
Developmental Rights and Ethical/Moral Imperatives

- Children need a supportive, nurturing environment created by caring adults for them to thrive, and all children can thrive.
- Those working in the educational context, in any position, must act with respect, challenge, caring, safety, civility, support, inspiration, and encouragement of nurturance and resilience.

THE NEW CHALLENGES FACING CHILDREN

- Increased pace of life
- Greater economic demands on parents
- Alterations in family composition and stability
- Breakdown of neighborhoods and extended families
- Weakening of community institutions
- Unraveling of parent-child bonds due to work, school demands, time, drugs, mental health, and economic burdens
- Climate of war, terror
- Ongoing exposure to an array of digital media and pervasive advertising that encourage violence as a problem-solving tool and other health-damaging behaviors and unrealistic lifestyles.
From the White House Conference on Children and Youth-- 1930

- To the doctor, the child is a typhoid patient; to the playground supervisor, a first baseman; to the teacher, a learner of arithmetic. At times, he may be different things to each of these specialists, but too rarely is he a whole child to any of them.

From Pablo Casals

Each moment we live never was before and will never be again. And yet what we teach children in school is $2 + 2 = 4$ and Paris is the capital of France. What we should be teaching them is what they are. We should be saying:

Do you know what you are? You are a marvel. You are unique. In all the world there is no other child exactly like you. In the millions of years that have passed, there has never been another child exactly like you. You may become a Shakespeare, a Michelangelo, a Beethoven. You have the capacity for anything. Yes, you are a marvel.

Social-Emotional Competence and Character Development (SECD):

A Coordinated Framework Provides Synergy

The Jumbled and Fragmented Schoolhouse

A School of Social-Emotional Competence & Character

What is Social-Emotional and Character Development (SECD)?

- a set of skills and dispositions/essential life habits
- that can be built developmentally if we do so with intentionality, focus, and continuity, and
- schools are the place where most children can be reached systematically,
- because the same set of skills and habits ultimately mediate academic, civic, and workplace success
- and it relates to moral and performance character!
What Must All Standards Recognize to Succeed?

True academic and life success integrates the intellectual, emotional, and social facets of learning. These are inextricably interconnected.

- Positive, Character-Building School Climate
- Explicit Instruction in SEL Skills
- Habits of mind and patterns of thinking that include curiosity, explaining their reasoning, feedback process, asking questions, and defining and solving problems, and striving to communicate

What Skills are Needed for Success in School and Life/Participatory Competencies?

- Self-awareness
- Social awareness
- Responsible decision making
- Relationship skills
- Life Success
- Form positive relationships, work in teams, deal effectively with conflict
- Make ethical, constructive choices about personal and social behavior
- Manage emotions and behaviors to achieve one’s goals
- Show understanding and empathy for others
- Recognize one’s emotions, values, strengths, and limitations

Benefits of SECD

Good Science Links SECD to the Following Student Gains:

- Social-emotional skills
- Improved attitudes about self, others, and school
- Positive classroom behavior
- 10-11 percentile-point gains on standardized achievement tests

And Reduced Risks for Failure:

- Conduct problems
- Aggressive behavior
- Emotional distress

HANDOUT

• Trigger Situation Monitor
Creating a Positive Social and Emotional Climate in the Early Childhood Classroom

- Have clear, visibly posted classroom, school rules that include expectations for positive behavior, respecting classmates and adults
- Provide opportunities for all children to regularly make contributions to the routines and maintenance of the classroom
- Provide frequent teacher redirection as an alternative to verbal reprimands

Creating a Positive Social and Emotional Climate in the Early Childhood Classroom

- Ensure that classrooms and school-related locations are free from violence and threat
- Arrange for school life to include consistent, stimulating contact with caring adults
- Allow opportunities for physical movement periodically

Creating a Positive Social and Emotional Climate in the Early Childhood Classroom

- Create vehicles for positive recognition and acknowledgement of the strengths of all children
- Experience laughter, joy, fun, a sense of wonder, curiosity about how and why things happen around them in school, community, the world
- Celebrate holidays and family customs and respect those of others; Participate in community events so that children learn a sense that they matter and can make a difference in the world (e.g., recycling; sharing; helping others)

What Does Effective SECD Programming Look Like?

- Carefully planned, theory and research based
- Teaches SECD skills
- Applies SECD skills to daily life by integrating into routines—circle time, planning time in Centers, cleanup, reflection on the day
- Leads to coordinated, integrated, and unified programming linked to academic outcomes
Effective Programming (cont.)

- Provides high-quality staff development and support
- Establishes organizational policies that foster success
- Involves family-community partnerships, especially with colleges/universities/high schools
- Structure includes continuous improvement, outcome evaluation, and dissemination components- proud sharing!!!
• Appreciation: give clear praise for trying new things, not doing what peers are doing, taking care of even small household or school responsibilities—clear appreciation sharpens focus

• Belonging: help children participate in local teams and extracurriculars, take classes to build hobbies, but avoid overload—be sure to have a focal area for belonging

• Confidence: encourage effort and follow through, celebrate accomplishments

• Competencies: build study skills and focusing and planning skills for projects, assignments, meeting household and family responsibilities, working in groups and teams, exercising leadership

• Contributions: involve children in family charity decisions; encourage giving a percentage of major gifts, holiday presents, to those in greater need; model and encourage community service; prioritization and concentration are key elements of focus

Emotionally Intelligent Parenting and Educating

- Find the Strengths in Every Child
  - Love the unlovable
  - Build parents’ pride in their children
- Make Them Helpers

- Create an Oasis Against Stress with Fun and Humor
- Follow the 24 Karat Golden Rule: Do Unto Your Children as You Would Have Others Do Unto Your Children

Emotionally Intelligent Parenting and Educating

- Parents Need the 3 R’s:
  - Respect
  - Reassurance
  - Resources
    - Know what they have
    - Know their extended families
    - Know what they need

Encourage Parents to Recognize That Kids Only Know What You Show

- How and when do you show caring?
- How do you handle anger, annoyance, praise, apology?
- When is there fun and humor in the household?
- The 48 Karat Golden Rule of Parenting:
  “Do unto your children as you would have other people do unto your own grandchildren.”

Creating the Caring Core:

“We must prepare our children for the tests of life, not a life of tests.”
